

Timers

Timers can be very beneficial when you have a device such as a stock tank heater, engine block heater, heat tape or snowmelt. Timers will automatically control heaters so that they don't run 24 hours a day. Timers can plug in between the device and your receptacle. Some heat tape timers have to be hard-wired by an electrician. Make sure you use an "outdoor timer" for cold weather applications.

Good example of a timer.
